Fly-tipping

Fly-tipping is the illegal dumping of rubbish or bulky items on land not licensed to receive it. Fly-tipping can be dangerous, pollutes land and waterways and costs the council tax payer significant amounts of money to dispose of.

Dumping household, industrial and commercial waste illegally is a serious offence that carries a fine up to £20,000 (unlimited if the case goes to the Crown Court) or an offender can even be sent to prison. It is also an offence to permit fly-tipping. Local councils treat this problem very seriously and will usually prosecute anyone caught fly-tipping waste.

With prices rising dramatically for disposal of hazardous waste, this without doubt will cause increased fly-tipping nationally. The possibility of it happening to you also increases.

Amiante Ltd can provide a collection and disposal services for fly-tipped material through our own fleet and our network of fully audited business partners.

What should you do when you discover fly-tipping?

Do not touch the waste. Fly-tipped waste can sometimes include toxic chemicals, asbestos, broken glass or clinical waste i.e contaminated used syringes.

Visually inspect the waste. Stand upwind of the pile to avoid any possible fumes or fibre inhalation.

Note down the content of the pile, and whether the pile is lying near any potential environmental hazards e.g surface or ground water areas.
